Board Musings

By Rich Armando

At the March meeting once again, we had another guest speaker, Don Soule, a local AMSOIL Distributor Dealer who told us how AMSOIL came to be as the first U.S. Manufacturer of synthetic oils for automobiles and the stringent testing they go through to maintain the highest quality of their products. This past fall/winter we were able to enjoy various guest speakers. I hope we can continue finding speakers for upcoming meetings. At the April meeting, I would like to have a discussion as to if you would like to continue having speakers during the summer months or hold off and start in again once fall arrives and the cruise season comes to an end. If we suspend the guest speakers during the summer months, we can cut our meetings short so we will have time to take our cars on a cruise right after the meeting. If this is something the club would like to do we need members to come up with ideas as to where we could cruise to.

As of this writing our first cruise nights is less than three weeks away. At the next meeting Bob Hines and I will go over how we expect our cruise night to be run along with the do's and don'ts. One of the newest additions will be a using a credit card reader at the club trailer to allow purchase of the cruise tee shirts with a credit or debit card. This will be interesting to see if sale activity increases as many in the past said they don't carry cash but would buy if we accepted credit cards. If club members want a tee shirt, don't forget to get it early on as this change in handling sales could result in selling out during the season. Steve Huntington also has included a limited number of long sleeve tees this year. Also, at the April meeting we need to review and vote on Rick White's 2023 Vocational Graduates' Workforce Grant amounts.

Here are a few ongoing requests that we are looking to review with the club membership. During the summer months, if you have a destination to a point of interest you think our fellow club members would enjoy, please let the Board know so we can schedule and announce it. If you have an idea for after our summer meetings, let's also make that happen, This could be a trip to your favorite ice cream stand or whatever you would like to do. And finally, our monthly request for someone who would like to be the club's secretary.

Once again, I would like to thank Fred Tierney for all his hard work to put together another successful anniversary social with a sumptuous buffet at the Olde Colonial Café followed by the Norwood Theater SOLD OUT show by the excellent Fleetwood Mac tribute band Rumours.

Johnny Sturniolo, a.k.a. Sweet Pea, would like to get the club's trailer and golf cart ready for our first cruise (April 20) on Saturday April 8 with a rain date of April 15. The trailer will be brought from the storage area to Johnny's Franklin home like we did last year so keep an eye out for the starting time and address details. See everyone at the next meeting, 6:00 PM on Tuesday April 18 in the Bass Pro Shops Conservation Room, Hopefully you will have your car out of winter storage soon.

Editor's Musing

By John Buchanan EDITORIAL

The Specialty Automotive small business segment of the market in 2023 continues to struggle from the supply chain parts shortage ripple effect from the post pandemic. Spring is the time of year when gear-heads are finishing up or rebuilding their rides for the upcoming summer driving or racing season. I was up on the Forte's Parts Connection website this month and saw OUT OF STOCK notices on his turn-key Blueprint and Dart Block Engines. We were shaking our heads when major manufacturers were running out of computer chips to keep their vehicle production lines flowing with new vehicles into their showrooms, thinking, our naturally aspirated vintage iron don't need microchips, we're immune to those problems. Well, we do need the basic nuts and bolts that keep our rides humming and that segment also continues to be facing a similar supply-chain hangover too. Mike Forte complained some of his backordered engines from Ford are now being pushed further into 2024. I recall those heady days of Just-In-Time (JIT/TPS) inventory management practices in the 1980's when the goal was to only have parts arrive on the day you needed them. That was then and now we're experiencing a boom of multi-hundred thousand square foot warehouses being built all over the landscape. Could it be to overcome those JIT/TPS COVID hangover blues because they don't have Amazon, FedEx or UPS occupancy signs on them?

2023 MARCOM Flea Market

By John Buchanan

It's the Model A car clubs that are the crocuses of our car hobby, and the Model A Restorers Club of Massachusetts (MARCOM) pops up in early March at the W.T. Holmes Transportation Garage, both inside the bus barn as well as outside on the gravel lot. Inside the barn, event site host Richard Holmes is ever present to answer questions about his eclectic school transportation museum collection of 1932 buses, the year his father Walter began transporting Norfolk school kids in his first bus.

All the vendor spaces inside were sold and Steve Huntington, who was on a wait list, was able to finally get a space to set up a table filled with some of his spring cleaning stuff that included a vintage pedal hot rod that his grandchildren outgrew. And, though many of the spots are filled by Model A club members pedaling their spare parts and left over project pieces, there are hidden treasures to be found.

If you were in the market for automobilia signs to grace your man cave or garage wall like the main bus barn wall shown at the right, you were in luck, because there seemed to be plenty of great examples available at the table displayed above.

The outer hall of the office area of the Holmes Transportation presents a Ronald MacDonald figure waving welcome as you walk into the display areas for the company's Holmes family collection of school related collectables, automobilia, farm, road and race vehicles in a museum type environment. Richard Holmes, shown in the picture below stranding behind his midget race car, stands by to answer any questions. This time, he has the 1932 International School bus, one of the three different 1932 school buses he's restored, as the centerpiece of the collection that also includes a 1967 Ford GT, pictured below to the left of the school bus. As always these early season Flea Markets are a great way to break away from winter blahs.

Richard Holmes personal museum quality collection of school bus, farm and nostalgic 50's era collectables is a welcomed bonus diversion to the annual MARCOM flea market.

Modernizing My 1966 MUSTANG

By Rich Armando

Don Soule is an independent Dealer for AMSOIL, the first manufacturer of synthetic oils for automobiles in the U.S, sorry Mobil 1, and Don was the guest speaker for our March 21 monthly meeting. This was also the first meeting where I forgot to take a picture of our Guest Speaker doing their thing. However, this was Don's second guest speaker visit, his first was 9 years ago (pictured below) when he first became an independent AMSOIL dealer after leaving the business world selling and installing aftermarket auto accessories like remote starters.

The difference between today's synthetic lubricants and their American Petroleum Institute (API) Service Category SAE viscosity grade conventional oil cousins is very important for newer vehicles that have turbochargers and with the standard use of ethanol-containing fuels but also for our classic cars where we want many of the benefits like preventing low-speed pre-ignition, reduced timing chain wear and sludge & varnish deposit control. And, if you are like me driving 3-5,000 miles during the April to November cruise and car show season, I like to replace the oil & filter once each year at season's end before putting the car away for the winter and synthetic oils have served me well. Other applications Don shared were examples of improved engine performance with snowblowers, lawn mowers and chain saws that customers experienced when they switched from using conventional to synthetic oil. Rather than trying to sell the virtues of synthetic oils or the unbeatable performance of the AMSOIL branded products, I'll direct you to Don's AntiqueMuscleSpecialtyVintageSpeed website <https://www.amsvs.net> where, in addition to learning about AMSOIL products you can learn how to become a preferred customer and get 25% discounts; become a dealer or bookmark the Car Cruises & Events link page for access the New England event websites that post their calendars, a service that Don personally provides for our hobby.

32nd Anniversary Party

By John Buchanan

2023 ushered in the Mass Cruisers Auto Club's 32nd year as a car club. We have traditionally celebrated the club's founding with a banquet and in past years it was held in the dead of winter when snow storms sometimes made celebrating a challenge. But a little wet rain for this year's March 25 celebration didn't dampen the spirits of the 60 members and guests that filed up to the 2nd floor function rooms at the Old Colonial Pub Restaurant in Norwood center. The social hour before the sumptuous buffet featuring chicken, scrod and hand carved roast sirloin beef with all the trimmings included personal bar pizzas and vegetable/cheese platter to whet everyone's appetite while wetting our whistles. Board Chairman Rich Armando thanked Fred Tierney for handling this year's anniversary arrangements that also included club seating together at the SOLD OUT Fleetwood Mac tribute band RUMOURS performance at the Norwood Theater just a crosswalk away following the banquet. Rich also introduced the club's special guest Louis Jutras who had worked to reconstruct our www.masscruisers.com website that John Griffin and Dennis DiBiasio will now maintain as webmasters. Another great Anniversary party.

Winter Blahs CRUIZN on Sunday March 26

By John Buchanan

I couldn't believe how we were blessed with a perfect CRUIZN Sunday on March 26. The all day Saturday rain into early Sunday morning washed away lingering winter road salt off and then the sun broke out later in the morning with temperatures rising well into the 50's. So, the plan was an early morning run up to the Minuteman Model A Ford Club's 27th Annual Winter Blahs Swap Meet at the Elks Lodge in Maynard in the pickup truck while the roads were drying off, then returning back home to hop in the '61 Chevy and head over to Swansea for the Detail Garage's season opening "Rides & Coffee" cruise from 10 AM—2 PM. The Elks lot in Maynard was full so I had to find an empty nearby closed business lot to park my truck and hoof it over to the swap meet. All I could find to bring home was a "Cruisin 1967" Ruby Records Album sporting a red '67 Caddy convertible with a bathing beauty perched on the rear boot cover that I texted a pic of to Bob Walton to see if he wanted to add it to his Cadillac garage art collection. He did.

CRUIZN on Sunday March 26 to the Detail Garage

After making it back home for the transfer to the '61 Chevy, it wasn't until 11:30 AM when I arrived at the Detail Garage cruise-in only to find the parking lots were filled and Swansea Police were blocking entry from the Rte. 118 Rehoboth direction into the cruise at Swansea Crossing, only allowing entering traffic from the South that was backed up to U.S. Route 6,. So I had to park in the former Swansea Mall parking lot and cross over on foot to the cruise. WOW! What an opening cruise event, and in March to boot. Detail Garage owners Andrew and Gary Sousa were initially concerned about hosting their season opening cruise in March but customers urged them to give it a try. They were definitely overwhelmed with the response from the cruising community with this early season start being blessed with perfect weather.

Everything from an RC truck to a micro-mini motorbike to classic and modern muscle could be seen CRUIZN the perimeter road surrounding the Swansea Crossing parking lots filled with cruise cars.

Talladega , My Bucket List Trifecta

by Bob Walton

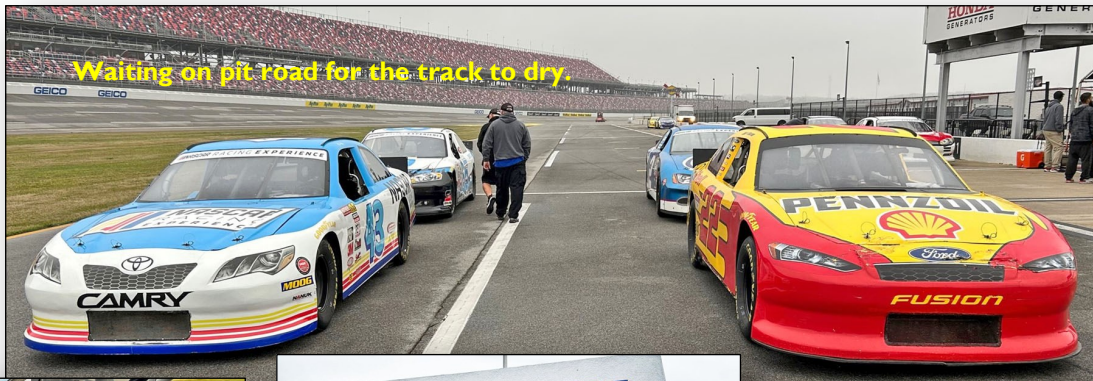

Question: What the heck is a 75-year-old guy doing driving a NASCAR race car 147 mph on the 33-degree banking of Talladega Superspeedway? Answer: Having the time of his life!

Having already driven race cars at Charlotte and Daytona International Speedway's over the past several years now, I've had a strong desire to drive Talladega, the largest (2.66 miles) of all tracks at which NASCAR races. The infield is 247 acres! The grounds encompass 7,000 acres! To put it bluntly, Talladega Superspeedway in Lincoln, Alabama, Talladega County is in the middle of nowhere. Since most New Englanders probably don't drive through Alabama very often on their way to Florida, getting there requires making a special side trip. I had agreed to meet my Denver daughter, Erica, in Miami for our second Beach Boys cruise, so I calculated a 375-mile side trip to Talladega and then made my reservation with the NASCAR Racing Experience (formerly the Richard Petty Driving Experience) and packed my bags.

It is a strong possibility that many of our club members have been behind the wheel at speeds north of 100 mph, some even above of 150 mph, but have you ever made a U-turn at those speeds? Driving at these speeds at Talladega requires making a U-turn on the tri-oval track every 25 seconds or so. It all starts with a "Ride-a-long" with the professional driver reaching speeds of more than 165 mph before I could take the wheel. At those speeds the scenery changes rather quickly, so glad I was glad I did the Ride-a-long before driving because, as you enter the turn, you can no longer look straight ahead to see where you are going. Even looking left is not the complete answer. You need to look out the upper left-hand corner of the windshield to see where you will be in about a second. The effect felt to me as if I were climbing a never-ending, upward spiraling helix. Had I not first ridden as a passenger, I would have thought I was having a stroke! During this experience the thought did occur to me that this was one of those times during which I truly had my life in my own hands.

The cockpit is all business. No cup holders

"Experience" is not a strong enough word.

My certificate

During the Talladega track drive I was in communication with my spotter (on the roof of the grandstands) via in-helmet radio. Very quickly my 8 minutes of track time was finished, and I coasted to pit road as instructed. I later received my certificate, my official photo, and some other souvenirs.

One of the aspects of this experience that differed from previous Petty experiences was that this car was fitted with a rev limiter at 5,000 rpm (approximately 150 mph), and I had to back off the throttle when the engine sputtered as I went thru the timing lights at 147.21 mph. At my Daytona track drive, I had reached 157.84 with no rev limiter on the race car. I understand that one can still go that fast now, but to do so, you need to pay for more on track minutes and a longer Ride-a-Long experience in a race car with a higher rev limit.

Oh yes, the Beach Boys "Good Vibrations Cruise" with my daughter Erica was also awesome, so I've added a few pics here of my daughter and me with the artists.
